To Whom It May Concern:

Ben Steele has worked regally at Ingleborough Hall for a number of years and his work has always been to a high standard and quality. He has undertaken many maintenance tasks and jobs onsite including general site work, fitting window frames, glass and kitchens, he is always very professional and manager all aspects of his work to a high standard.

Ben's work is always managed effectively and efficiently to make sure that jobs are done correctly to a high standard and within the budget that has been set or has been quoted. When he is working with others he makes sure this is managed appropriately with personal safety, site safety, employee's safety and public safety always taken into consideration. Ben is always mindful and takes into consideration safeguarding as this is very important with residential nature of the centre and the site and locations he works.

Ben manages his time and the time of others he is working with well, making sure that jobs are done swiftly and efficiently and within the time frames set but without effecting his high standards.

Yours faithfully

Jonathan Binney
